Theory in statistics

1/2

1. The first step in statistical analysis is to collect data.

2. The second step is to organize the data into a table.

3. The third step is to calculate the mean, median, and mode.

4. The fourth step is to draw a graph of the data.

5. The fifth step is to interpret the results of the analysis.

6. The sixth step is to write a report on the findings.

7. The seventh step is to present the results to the audience.

8. The eighth step is to evaluate the effectiveness of the analysis.

9. The ninth step is to revise the report if necessary.

10. The tenth step is to conclude the analysis.
